Tyumen

The West Siberian city of Tyumen is about 1700 kilometers away from Moscow. It is picturesquely situated on the river Tura.

There are almost 600,000 people live in a city which is one of the wealthiest cities in Russia because the oil and gas industry has developed rapidly in the area.

Tyumen has that special flair of a Russian City full of contrasts: on the one hand, this is the oldest city in Siberia with many charming traditional wooden houses and beautiful Orthodox churches. On the other side you will find a modern, cosmopolitan city with skyscrapers, chic malls, cozy cafes & restaurants.

Tobolsk

If you travel with us to Tobolsk, you will discover the second oldest city of Siberia with well-preserved old houses, interesting museums and truly provincial charm.

You will visit the only stone Kremlin in Siberia. You will also get to know the exotic cultures of two small Siberian nations, the cultures of the Khanty and Mansi.

Yalutorovsk

Even the small city of Yalutorovsk, which is also on the route of the Trans-Siberian Railway, has a lot to offer: a cathedral, a 17th-century prison and many interesting old houses from the beginning of the settlement of Siberia. On this journey into the past, you will explore a place where the 19th century Decembrists of the Russian czars were banished.

Industrial University of Tyumen

The Industrial University of Tyumen (founded in 1958) has almost 15,000 students. The motto of IUT: The university of the future! This is one of the most recognized universities in Russia.

Thanks to our international profiles there are also study more than 1400 students from abroad.

The graduates of the degree program in architecture are sought-after architects not only in Tyumen but throughout Russia. They also have their own ingenuity decisively shaped the modern cityscape of Tyumen.
